IT was the 10th of September, 1927, when we, the freshman class, first met; we came from all parts of the country with different ideas and desires, a very small percentage of the freshman class had graduated from the University high school, and we were completely lost as to what to do. We were typical freshmen, green, puzzled, and friendless, but the upper classmen soon showed us kindness and made us feel that we were part of the University as well as anyone else. We were given a barn social from which we took new courage and decided to make the best of the situation. We have taken part in all phases of college life, having Green, North, Warren, and Walker members of the football squad, and Brown, and Jones on the basket ball quintette, Miss V. King, E. Shade, and A. Yates ranking students of the University, we at least feel that we have done something and hope to do more and better work in the remaining years of school.

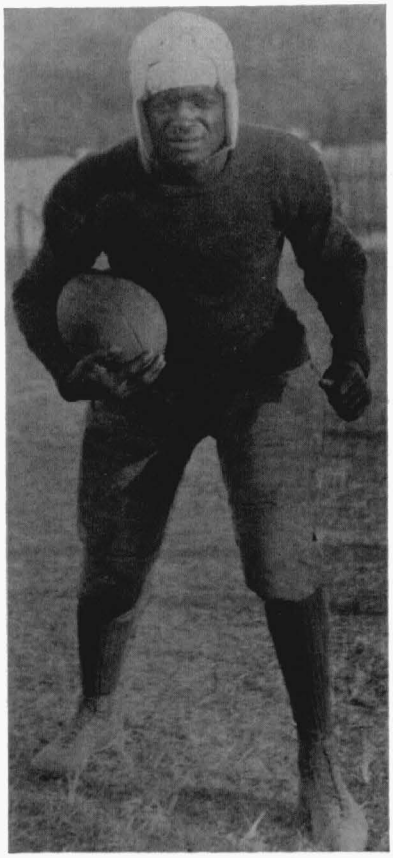
FOOTBALL

Coach Geo. R. Collins

Football for the 1927 Season

ON September 9th came the first call for football men, old and prospective; and seventy-three huskies (not to count "Chinny" Hamilton and Nuttall) turned out for practice. After two weeks of intensive and energetic workout our squad was reduced in both number and avoirdupois. Coach Collins had a tremendous task before him, as he did not know his men (having come to us for the first time this year) and had a practically new squad to work with, Lincoln having lost seven or eight stellar men at the close of the last season. No, I am not apologizing for the season of 1927, I am explaining the conditions under which we played. For in truth the season of 1927 was one of the most disastrous ones in Lincoln's bright history. But the painful report cannot longer be delayed, however unpleasant it might be to us to recall it, and truth and fact have never yet been consciously evaded by any Lincolnite. So here 'tis:

The 1928 Tiger Squad



Captain, T. K. Robinson

OCTOBER 1st.

Lincoln University, 6; Wilberforce, 38

After having humbled the denizens of the Buckeye state last year, the Tiger again whetted his claws and sallied forth to do battle again with this puny foe of the East. Filled with disdain and pity for his enemy the Tiger did not scare for the first two minutes of play. Then the enemy changed his tactics, the first line defense was substituted for the second, and from then on the Tiger fought a valiant but losing fight. The Buckeye meat had toughened perceptibly since '26 and at the close of the battle a victorious Wilberforce team felt its honor avenged. But the 1928 season is yet to come.

OCTOBER 14th.

Lincoln High School, 0; Douglass High, 21

On the above date the high school football team fared forth to show big brother in the College how it was done. Blood was in the eyes of the young Tigers and viciously did they spring forward to the attack. Valiance and determination, however, could not make up for inexperience on the field, and the young Tigers limped back home without the bacon.

OCTOBER 22nd.

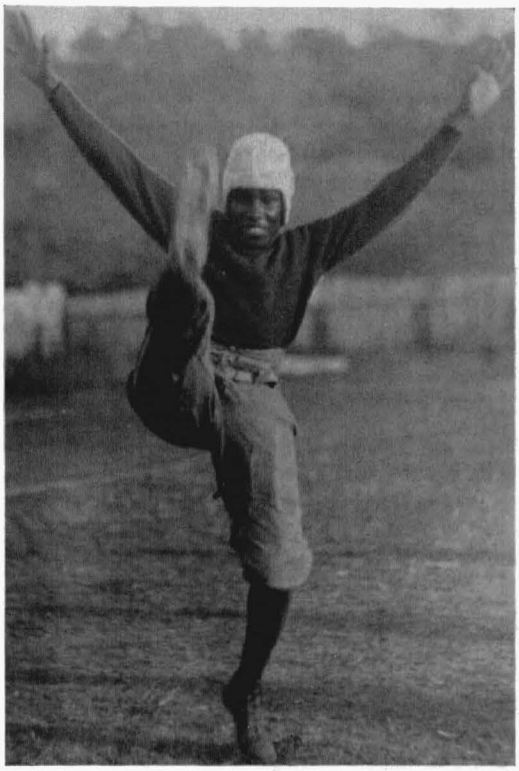
Lincoln U., 25 Topeka, 6

That the three weeks which had passed since the Tigers received their drubbing at the hands of the Ohioans had not been wasted was well demonstrated in the battle with the Topekans. Playing a much improved game the Tiger was too good for his foe and the latter took the small end of a 25-to-6 game. Apparently the Tiger machine was functioning in a faultless manner, a fact which to all appearances presaged ill for the rustics from Langston whom they were destined to meet on November 11.

NOVEMBER 11, HOMECOMING DAY

Lincoln U., 0; Langston U., 52.

This was the day of days. The Tiger, still smarting in various places from the yet unhealed wounds received at Wilberforce, and only slightly appeased by the game taken from Topeka, was determined to show the Greasy oilers from Oklahoma that he was not a foe to be taken lightly. Time and time again he charged down upon the oilers only to have the oil-besmirched foe slip from his grasp; for he was too slippery to hold. The oilers, repeating what is now an old story, went home the victors in a 52 to 0 kickfest. But Fisk was yet to be met, and the Tiger would still show 'em that he had the stuff in him to win.



Bill Wynn

NOVEMBER 19th.

Lincoln U., 0; Fisk U., 43

Bright and early October 19, a sullen and vicious Tiger, smarting from defeats and humiliations such as no other ruler of the woods had yet known, left his lair and made his way to the killing grounds. Here today was he to avenge all past insults and drubbings. Here would he show the cocksure enemy from the sunny South that he was still to be reckoned with. So with flashing eyes and frothing mouth he charged the Southerner, meaning to make a quick job of it, but the worm turned, and he turned so well that a much-battered Tiger could with difficulty leave a field whence his erstwhile foe had gone, taking 43 points of a 43 to 0 game.

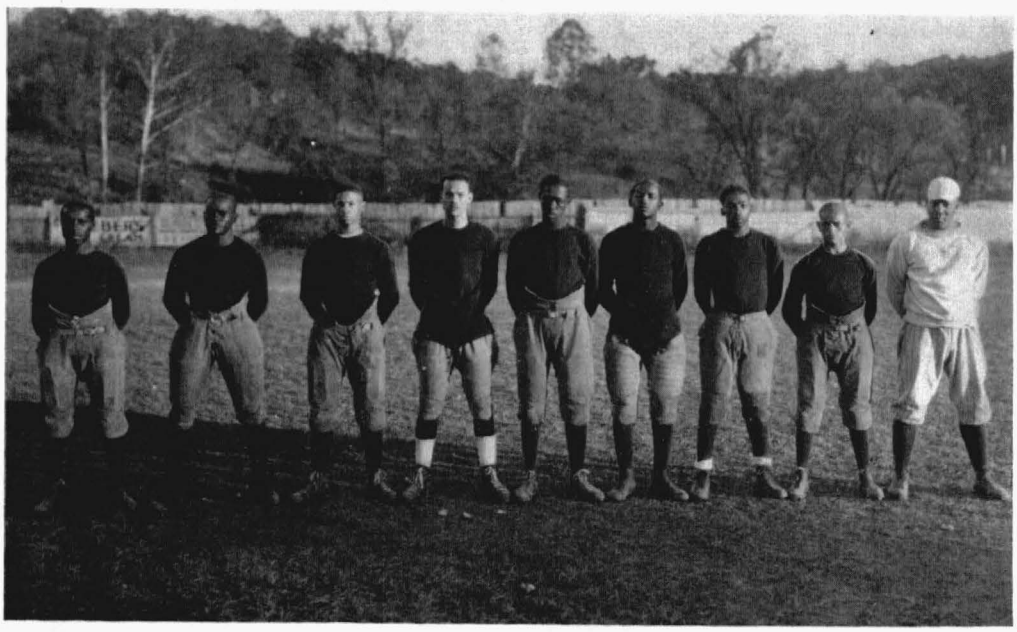
NOVEMBER, THANKSGIVING DAY.

Lincoln U., 6 Western U., 7

Here at last was the Tigers' opportunity, with still undaunted courage, and confident of his ability, to win. He strode with measured steps out onto the gridiron in Kansas City, feeling, no doubt, somewhat as did the lions in the arenas of ancient Rome as they made ready for a feast on succulent Christian morsels. For fifteen successive years the Tigers from the Ozark foothills had ruled over the Kansans, but once again was the Tiger to learn that nothing is certain in this vale of tears. Once again did the Tiger come off with the less choice portion of a 6 to 7 game.

SPRING PRACTICE

When the call for Spring practice went out early in March a large squad of letter-men responded. In spite of a disastrous season the morale of the men was never higher. In contrast to the preceding year the loss of varsity men will be slight, and in addition there is promise of a number of stellar men from other colleges. There is every evidence therefore that the season of 1928 will be quite different from the one of 1927. At any rate "hope springs eternal in the human breast."

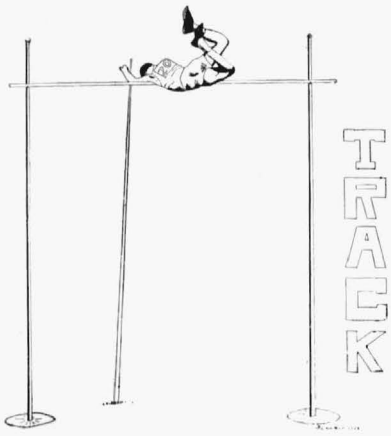


That "Too Bad" Backfield

TRACK

James D. Parks, Track Coach

Mr. Parks comes from Bradley Polytechnic Institute of Peoria, Illinois. He was a member of the Bradley Cross-Country squad in 1925 and in 1924 ran on the crack Sophomore half-mile relay team whose record of 1:41 still stands in Inter-Class track competition at Bradley. Mr. Parks also ran at Sumner High, St. Louis where he consistently placed in the dash events. Mr. Parks' events were the quarter-mile, three, and five-mile races although he occasionally ran the sprints.



COACH PARKS

College vs. High School, Dual Meet, March 3. Lincoln Field.

The College defeated the High School department of Lincoln, 59-26. Rogers and George Brown were outstanding for the college while R. Spencer and William Johnson stood out for the High School.

University of Illinois 11th Annual Relay Carnival, March 17th.

Leander Rogers came in close second to Gleason of the University of Chicago in fast time of 7 and 9/10 seconds in 75 yard dash at Illinois.

Western A. A. U. Track Championships at St. Louis, March 31st.

Walls ran brilliantly winning his qualifying and semi-final heats of of 50-yard dash but pulled a muscle so painfully he was forced to withdraw from the finals. Rogers went to semi-finals in 50-yard dash and won his section of 600-yard run in one minute and 24.1 seconds, which was a whole second under the Western A. A. U. record for the distance.

1928 Track Schedule

March 3 High School Dept. vs. College Dept., Lincoln Field.

Basket Ball

THE Lincoln University College and High School basket ball teams were more successful than the football teams and on more than one occasion played a game that would have reflected credit on any quintet of their class. Teams were organized after the Christmas vacation and by the latter part of January after several weeks of intensive training they were in tiptop condition.

The Male Quartet

ALL growth is through self-expression, and the exalted moods that make life significant are uttered in music, and especially in vocal music, which supplies the word that gives it concrete direction as a character influence.

Music has an important office in the destiny of our country, by expressing unity, and in bringing harmony of thought, feeling, and purpose—a real brotherhood.

These four young men have done much to spread this doctrine. Their singing in the various assemblies, and over the radio has carried joy and pleasure to many.

Melody Maids

THESE young women, under the able direction of Miss Roena Muckleroy, are winning a reputation for themselves as true "Maids of Melody." They appeared in recital several times during the past year, broadcasted over radio WOS, and filled a number of short-trip engagements in joint recital with the Men's Quartet. Their final appearance in the May was an outstanding success.

Miss Roena Eloise Muckleroy . . . . . Director
Vivian Ada Cole . . . . . Accompanist

Chorus

THE endeavor of the Chorus is to present music which interprets life and humanity, love and comradeship, and especially the joy and courageous optimism which make the dominant note of the American people; and if America fulfills her promise it will be because music has not failed to contribute its share in keeping alive the altruistic feeling which gives vision to life.

It is under the able direction of Miss Marie H. Ford that much has been done toward bringing this endeavor to pass.

THE members of the Y. W. C. A. of Lincoln University are still following the gleam under the leadership of their officers.

Our annual membership campaign was launched in September which was brought to a close by a "Carnival." All enjoyed a very pleasant afternoon. This was sufficient to know that there were young women who have harkened to the call of the Y. W. C. A. in its endeavor to enlarge the usefulness of the woman of tomorrow.

Among the chief interest of the year was a visit paid to us by our traveling secretaries, Miss J. Saddler and Mr. Wilson, from the Y. M. C. A., who were met by a joint cabinet in a most inspiring session.

Sunday evening of each week is set apart for our meetings. These meetings are sometimes joint meetings with the Y. M. C. A. in the various dormitories. They consist of devotional numbers and a program of some special topic for discussion which prove very beneficial.

The Artists' Guild

Founded 1928

President	Mae Gearin
Vice-President	Mary Thomas
Secretary	Willie Watson
Assistant Secretary	Mozella Robinson
Treasurer	William Johnson

THE growing interest of students registered in the Art department at Lincoln caused to be organized on March 26th the Artists' Guild. The purpose of the club is to foster an interest in fine arts among the art students of the College. The Club during the year expects to hold several art competitions among those registered in the art department, hold a number of exhibits of works of leading painters, hold an annual exhibit of the work done by the students of the department and sponsor an annual social affair.

The results of the Winter Poster Competition sponsored by art department which attracted a large number of entries were very gratifying. The results were as follows: First place, William Johnson; second place, Virtus Moore; third place, U. Collins, and honorable mention, Miss Ethel Shade. The judges were Professors Barksdale, Spears, and Curtis.

The Club looks forward to the annual exhibit of the department, an exhibit of the paintings of Mr. Parks, a spring art competition and a spring social affair.

The Artists' Guild is directed by Mr. James D. Parks, instructor in Art, at Lincoln.

TO THE CLASS OF '29

THE staff of the 1928 Quill rests from its labor with the hope that this book will meet with your approval. We have labored under great difficulties. The interest and enthusiasm of the student body as a whole was not what we would have liked it to be. With the determination to do our best we have worked day and night to give you a book that would be a credit to the school. It is not what it should be, but we frankly say, and honestly believe, that the fault is not all ours. This book has limitations, we know, and no one regrets them more than we do. Almost two out of three students refused to give us their aid and co-operation by subscribing to a book. And as all know a very limited number of subscribers make the cost of a book almost prohibitive. There are many, many features that "The Quill" should contain, but to make the book all that it should be, and must be, will require the help and co-operation of all. So we, the Staff of the 1928 "Quill," rest from our labors with the desire that you, the class of 1929, succeed in making of the 1929 "Quill" all that it should be.
