President's Message

HOMECOMING AND GREETINGS:

Though our world is yet not the happy place of abode for men of the earth and human fears and confusion in purposes in living still slow our way to contentment, there is a rift in the clouds above the campus today and the blue skies peep through giving hope for better days ahead. Beginning with this day, Homecoming, we take heart and engage ourselves in love and good fellowship to give you and all our friends the warmth of sincerest greetings for this time and the rest of the year. Though filled with students and teachers our gates are ajar, our windows open wide, our hearthsides are warm and our spirits surge outward in a joyous welcome to you.

To our alumni and guests we invite you to our bonfires, our game and our festive activities throughout the campus. They are yours to partake and be merry in.

To our visiting team we give you a sportsman's welcome and a hearty handshake in thanks that you should come from afar to help us make our day a pleasant one. Though we would desire that our team should win today, we are sincere when we say, "May the best team be victor this day." Be assured that you too are dear to us and the warmth of our hearts enfold you.

To the valiant men of Lincoln, victors in other games, the Family will be on the sidelines, sending out the Lincoln spirit to help you win another victory for "Uncle Abe."

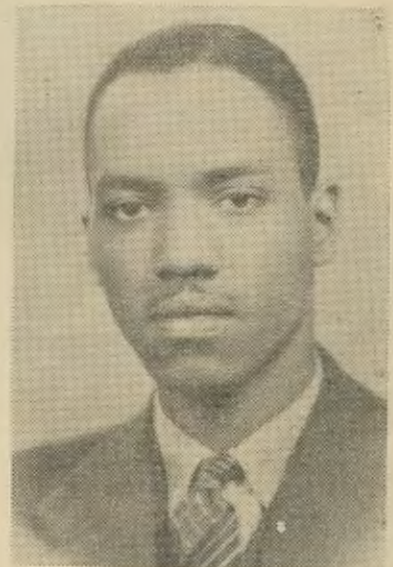

—Sherman D. Scruggs

From Our Coach

On this second Homecoming since the secession of hostilities in Europe it is a great pleasure to welcome Wilberforce University as our guests on the "Hill." As Lincoln University stands for higher learning and culture, so it stands for brotherhood and fellowship.

The wholesome relationship which has existed between our schools over a long period of years reveals the power of athletic competition to develop a kindred spirit between institutions. The football squad and coaching staff extend to you the warmth of feeling that predominates our campus.

—David D. Rains
