Dear [Name],

It is with great pleasure that we mark our 20th year in the catering business. We are proud to say that our commitment to serving our clients with the best possible food and service has not changed over the past 20 years.

Throughout this time, we have continued to improve our offerings, keeping up with the latest trends in food and service. We are always looking for ways to make our clients' events even more special.

As our 20th year comes to a close, we look forward to celebrating with each of you. We hope to continue serving you for many more years to come.

Sincerely,
[Your Name]
Dear Alumni, Former Students, and Friends:

Lincoln University triumphantly survived the challenges and crises of one hundred eventful years. Although these years have witnessed changes in the individual pattern of our lives, the purpose of this institution, as conceived by those gallant soldiers of long ago, has remained steadfast.

Through a Century of service, Lincoln University has been dedicated to one broad goal—the betterment of lives of the youth of Missouri through education. And in order to achieve this goal in a changing society, it has been most essential that we should avoid any tendency in the pattern of education at this institution to become static.

It has been this ability to adapt itself to the changes and new demands and needs of the youth of this state through succeeding generations that has enabled Lincoln University to become the great institution that it is today.

And so, it is with pride that we welcome you back to these high grounds to join with us in the celebration of Homecoming on our Centennial year.

I think that you will be as proud of us as we are of you, and your achievements. Certainly we will do everything in our power to make this so, and we hope that you will return to this campus year after year, in order that we may always remain in touch with each other.

Sincerely,

Earl E. Dawson
President

To The President, Faculty, Staff, Students And Alumni Of Lincoln University

Greetings:

We at Kentucky State College are happy to extend to you our warmest greetings upon an occasion which again brings together Lincoln University and Kentucky State College in athletic competition. A historic rivalry, which is part of this traditional meeting of the “Tigers” and the “Thoroughbreds,” assures us that both teams will play their best game.

Homecoming is always an exhilarating experience, for it provides an opportunity to renew friendships, to remember the achievements and pleasures of the past, and to rejoice in the progress of our Alma Mater. Homecoming also inspires us to give more and more support to the institution which is our home.

We look forward to a continuation of the friendship which has existed between our institutions for many years.

Sincerely,
Carl M. Hill, President

Miss Kentucky State
MISS JOYCE ANN LAWSON
Kentucky State College was established by the General Assembly in 1886. The name of the college has changed three times since 1886. It was changed in 1952 to its present name, Kentucky State College, located in the capital city, can be reached by highway 60 and 421 and near Interstate 64. The Louisville and Nashville railroad and the Chesapeake and Ohio trains pass through. Air­lines are available at Lexington, Kentucky a distance of 22 miles from the college.

The institution is a member of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools and offers four-year undergraduate programs. In 1963, the college established a two-year Community College as a part of its service program. The College has an undergraduate student enrollment of 924; the student body and faculty are integrated.
